Last Meeting Held by Parent-Teacher Body

Movies of May Day, School
Plans and Reports Feature Affair.

PRESIDENT GIVES REPORT

The final meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association was held in the school auditorium on Monday evening, May 18. Mrs. Ernest Bailey very kindly showed the moving pictures of the May Day celebration which were greatly appreciated. Afterward Mr. Bailey showed some fine colored movies taken in the Wohlert and Albright nurseries.

Those parents who had forgotten the Louisiana Purchase details had their memories delightfully refreshed by the children of Miss Miller's grade, who dramatized the facts. Anne Forsyth amazed the audience with her remarkable agility in an acrobatic dance.

Mrs. Patton read her report of the financial condition and the chairmen of the various committees made brief reports.

Mrs. Van Auken announced that Dr. Sloan will be at the school on June second, at which time a thorough medical examination will be given to any child who is to enter the school in the fall. This examination is not compulsory, but certainly is an advantage. Please telephone the school for an appointment. The president's report gave a resume of the work undertaken and carried through during Mrs. Woolmington's very successful administration.

Following the report the meeting was turned over to Kenneth L. M. Pray, president of the School Board, who gave some interesting facts on school plans. Victor T. Abel told the audience about the new building and showed blue prints which he has prepared for the wonderful changes to be made in the Essex Avenue building during the summer.

Mrs. Woolmington's report follows: "Soon the fifth year of the existence of the Narberth Parent-Teacher Association will have passed into history, and, as we review our year's work, we have every reason to feel that our efforts have been worth while.

"We opened our fall work with a slight question in our minds as to just what our new principal would think of our organization and just how favorable he would be to it, but it did not take long to learn his attitude. From the evening of our first meeting—in September—he has convinced us that he is 100 per cent. back of vice president of the Merion Title and Trust Company, who dealt the "whispering campaign" aimed at local banks a knockout blow in a speech before Ardmore business people on Monday night. Mr. Clane is a resident of Narberth.

A knockout blow to the "whispering brigade" was given Monday night by Murdoch P. Clane, vice president of the Merion Title and Trust Company. In one of the frankest and most vigorous talks ever heard on the Main Line, he told the members of the Ardmore Chamber of Commerce the bald truth about the flood of Old Wives' Tales which have been spun recently about local banks.

Out of patience with anonymous telephone "tips," rumors of runs which did not exist, irresponsible gossip and backyard whisperings, the Ardmore banker rose to the defense of the local credit situation in a manner which left his hearers dazed, and then enthusiastic in applause.

"Modern life is based on the spiritual, educational and institutional," he said. "In the latter category falls business and finance. Credit—another word for faith—is the foundation of modern business and of banking. Ninety-five per cent. of business is done on credit in America. Compare this with France, which has but two banks, and where checks and credits are practically unknown.

HULLABALOO IS MISSING

By DAVE CASEY

Gene Davis' 1931 edition of the Narberth Baseball Club got off to a successful start in their campaign for their fourth successive Main Line League title, when they downed the Lansdowne team 7-5 in a free-hitting contest last Saturday afternoon at the playground.

In keeping with the decorous customs of the venerable Main Line League the opening game was devoid of the customary ceremonies and hullabaloo associated with such contests in the major league cities. There were no bands, no flag raising and the first ball was tossed out by the umpire, who probably made a better toss than most of the local celebrities who officiate in this capacity in the large cities. Even Narberth's famed leather-lunged announcer, Mr. "Windy" Finnan, was absent from his usual post. Indeed, it is rumored that this specialist has

OFFICERS HONORED

Prentiss Nichols, the godmother and the only honorary member, was the guest of honor. Mrs. Nichols presented an ebony and silver gavel to the club, on which her name was inscribed. Mrs. Abram Bunn Ross, immediate past president of Montgomery County and a member of the Narberth Club, commended the members of the organization on their loyal support and splendid co-operation during her four-year administration as president of the County Federation. Reports were read by the officers and committee chairmen, including the reports of the senior junior adviser, Mrs. Catherine D. Keenan, and Mrs. W. H. Muller, adviser of the sub-junior department.

7th Grade to Remain at Narberth School

Mounting Tuition Costs Make
Action by Board
Necessary

WILL SAVE $7000

The present Narberth Seventh Grade will spend next year at the Narberth School instead of going to Lower Merion Junior High School, as has been the procedure for the past three years. This step, which has been under consideration for some time, was finally decided upon at a special meeting of the Borough School Board on Wednesday morning.

The chief reason for the action was given as the ever-increasing tuition costs of Narberth students at Lower Merion. If the present Seventh Grade were to go to the Junior High School next year, it would cost the school district $10,900 in tuition for that grade alone. By keeping the Seventh Grade at Narberth a saving of approximately $7000 will be effected.

The reconstruction of the school building during the summer, which has to be done regardless, will provide adequate space and facilities for an Eighth Grade.

The former Narberth Junior High School was disbanded beginning with the sending of the Ninth Grade students to Lower Merion Junior High in the fall of 1926. The Eighth Grade

Narberth Theatre Notes

"Body and Soul," playing at Narberth this Friday and Saturday, is adapted from the stage play, "Squadrons," telling of a young officer in the Royal Flying Corps, who meets and falls in love with a beautiful girl only to find himself facing court martial when the girl is charged with being a spy. Charles Farrell's new leading lady is the charming new continental star, Elissa Landi.

A three-hour show is promised at the 2 P. M. matinee this Saturday, with special features for children.

"Dance, Fools, Dance," at Narberth next Monday and Tuesday, is Joan Crawford's latest, in which she does some high-pressure newspaper reporting and dances quite a bit.

Norma Shearer is in a dramatic comedy, "Strangers May Kiss," at Narberth next Wednesday and Thursday.

Douglas Fairbanks is coming next week-end in "Reaching for the Moon," a comedy with plenty of Fairbanks acrobatics.

At the Egyptian

That Berkley Brothers Circus at the Egyptian 2:15 P. M. this Saturday has awakened interest all along the Main Line, and children who want a pleasing afternoon are notified that the theatre doors will open at 1:30 to accommodate early arrivals before the rush begins.

The feature this Friday and Saturday at the Egyptian is "Along Came Youth," in which Charles Rogers and Stuart Erwin give plenty of amusement.

"Honor Among Lovers," at the Cynwyd playhouse next Monday and Tuesday, is a really entertaining comedy that comes highly recommended. Its cast includes three stars: Claudette Colbert, Charles Ruggles and Frederic March.

Nancy Carroll and Phillips Holmes have pleasing characterizations in "Stolen Heaven," next Wednesday and Thursday, than which there are better and worse cinemas.

Buster Keaton is genuinely entertaining, aided by Charlotte Greenwood, in "Parlor, Bedroom and Bath," his latest comedy, coming to Cynwyd next Friday and Saturday.

Plan Radio Tea

A radio tea will be held at the home of Mrs. A. J. Sigel, 234 Forest Avenue, next Wednesday at 2.30. Come and hear Carol Chen, graduate of Wa. Wa. College; Mrs. Thomas Nicholson, president of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and Bishop Francis McConnell. The next club affair will be a garden party, with bridge and other games, to be held on Wednesday afternoon, June 17, at 2 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Robert J. Nash, Narberth and Price Avenues. The party will be given for the benefit of the Building Fund. For reservations, please notify Mrs. J. A. Hongler or Mrs. Robert J. Nash, chairman of the committee.

Philadelphia District Champ

HERBERT ROSER,

Narberth Boy Winner of Phila. District Marble Crown

Herbert Roser, of Brookhurst Avenue, Narberth, was crowned marble champion for the Philadelphia District as the result of the finals at City Hall last Saturday.

Roser, who won the Main Line District championship on the Narberth Community Playground in the tournament sponsored jointly by the Evening Bulletin and the Main Line Community Weekly Newspapers, followed up this victory by annexing the Montgomery County championship at Lansdale.

His victory last Saturday entitles him to enter the national contest to be held at Ocean City the week of June 21-26 as the Philadelphia District representative.

Roser, who is 13 years old, represented the Cynwyd School in the Main Line playoffs.

Narberth Firemen Win First League Game

Ben Yowell's sensational catch of Tyson's long drive with the bases loaded materially assisted the Narberth Firemen in their defeat of the Lower Merion Police Team in the opening game of the Police-Firemen League.

Yocum pitched good ball, holding Walter Brown's sluggers to six hits and shutting them out after the first inning. The local firemen have been greatly strengthened by the addition of Yowell in centerfield. Powell at shortstop and Joe Rubican at second, and under the able guidance of Manager Dick Blessing, they expect to make a strong bid for the league pennant this year. Score by innings:

Circus Is Coming

Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey Circus press-agented as "the greatest show on earth," is coming to Philadelphia the week of May 25th, at 11th Street and Erie Avenue. For the week of June 1st it will move out to 69th Street at Marshall Road.

Included among the attractions under the "big top" are the Orland-Mara diving act, the Reinsch brothers, amazing acrobatic riders; Hugo Zaccini, the human projectile, and many other thrill specialists.

In the animal life, there is a menagerie of 1000 wild beasts, 43 elephants, a herd of giraffes and 700 horses.

'Time Out'

By TOMMY MACKLIN

Bethlehem, Allentown and Easton. Nice names to use when you're talking to a Lower Merion athlete or fan.

Lower Merion has never lost a contest in any of those three places. Last Saturday the Maroon track team won for the sixth consecutive year the District One track and field meet held at Bethlehem High School.

The Junior High won the relay at Bethlehem three weeks ago, breaking the record in the 880-yard relay. They won the same races last year, the first year the Junior High School division was incorporated in the meet.

You all remember the basketball games that Anderson's Maroon five won at Allentown and Bethlehem last year and this, and also the three important and soul-stirring games won at Easton in the Lafayette College gym. Adam's track team also won the championship of the District last year at Easton and the year before at Bethlehem and the year before that at Allentown. And so it goes. Great places, we'd say.

If the Maroon baseball team could play all of its games in one of those places Bill Anderson would have another championship team.

What some of these high school nines need is Al Simmons on the roster.

Lower Merion Junior High School won from Radnor J. H. in track last Friday by a 70-point margin and repeated against Haverford Junior High Tuesday by as large a margin. Some great boys coming along for the Maroon colors next year.

George Voight, Jim Davis, "Ly" Suloff and "Vince" Pearce. Just a bunch of young golfers trying to get along.

We know the thrill. We had a "peep" on the first hole at St. David's Saturday. Our first hole under par. Great stuff.

"Mike" Mulligan started out as a sophomore third baseman at Lower Merion five years ago. The coach was severely "razzed" for keeping him in the lineup. Mike learned his stuff that year though and was kept on the job. He moved over to shortstop for his Junior and Senior years and played good infield. He hit .450 his senior year and captained the team.

The seniors are now figuring on what college to go to next fall. It won't be long now for the school boys. Only four more weeks and the 1930-1931 season is off to the launch.

Well, we're not paid on quantity production.

Track Championships Today and Tomorrow at Haverford

The nineteenth annual track and field championship of the Middle Atlantic States Collegiate Athletic Association will be held on Walton Field at Haverford College today and tomorrow.

Among colleges which will compete are Lafayette, Rutgers, Union, Manhattan, Muhlenberg, Johns Hopkins, Dickinson, Swarthmore, Gettysburg, St. Joseph's and Haverford.

A four-cornered tie is the result of the meet forecast by Harold A. Bruce, director of athletics and track coach at Union College, who has had uncommon success in picking the winners at previous meets.

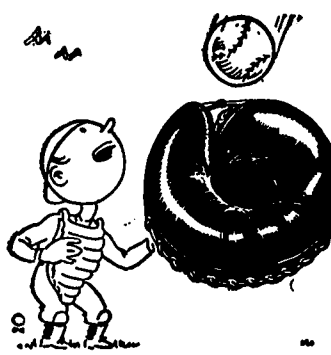

Paoli Plays Here Saturday

Local fans will have a chance to see a hot battle Saturday when the Paoli Marooners-up in the league season, will clash with the Narberth team at the playground. The game was originally scheduled to be played at Paoli, but was referred to the Narberth Community Playground by mutual agreement. For or Reynolds will play the heavy-hitting first base whose line-up will also include Barney Umbach and Verna, two of the most famous batters in the league. Noblitt, who caused trouble for our boys in the championship series last year, probably get the pitcher's job for Paoli.

District One Track Squad Captured by L...

Albert Adam's Maroon track squad won in impressive fashion last Saturday at Bethlehem in the sixth annual District No. 1 track meet. Thirty-five points were gathered by the various members of the squad and turned over to the coach. Many first guessers thought that Haverford, winners at Villanova the week before, would win through and nose out the Main Liners had Ambler, the small high school from the upper regions of Moravia, came in second to L...

Common Sense Versus Mob Hysteria

One of those of us who are in business; for the sake of the securities and savings accounts; for the sake of our unemployed, let us fight the hysterical work of the whisper hysteria come wars, lynchings, panics and bank runs. No reason is invoked; no investigation is made—the fact is passed along as fact. The gossip monger may be a liar, but he is too busy retailing the yarn to investigate its truth. The Welfare Federation, tired of hearing a ridiculous story passed from mouth to mouth for weeks, spiked it with a $500 reward for its verification. Every retailer of the wild yarn—and we have heard twenty times—assured his audience that the person involved was the end of his. On being questioned, each raconteur admitted it was the end of a friend.

Now scores of banks, already heavily burdened with the troubles of the depression, must suffer from the hysterical story-telling of the unreasonably thinking people. For months the executives of the banks have been ignoring the tales—for that is usually the best way to handle them. Now, with a number of institutions forced to close because of inexcusable runs, is it not time for all of us to stand up and attack this devilish situation without gloves?

Through the frank and courageous speech of Mr. Murdoch P. Clancy, last night, sixty business men and women of Ardmore are now armed with facts to fight the panic lovers who seem bent on wrecking all business by starting bank runs. If a few thousand other members of the sane and sensible part of the Main Line's population will help with the task, we may be able to drive the cold grey shadows of slinking falsehoods back into the holes from which they came.

Are we all such cowards that the passing pinch of a business cycle can transform us from thinking, doing citizens into hysterical talebearers? When work, and faith, and courage are needed, have we the time to stand idly on some street corner, stalling our neighbor in the back by spreading rumors?

Did the man who phoned us that a local bank had closed its doors go see for himself? Did the woman who reported a line "a block long" before a bank discover for herself that at that moment the "line" was proved to consist of two people making deposits, one person compiling a payroll, another cashing a check, and a fifth putting a dollar into his Christmas Club? Did those two thoughtless people, and the others who telephoned falsehoods, realize whom they would be hurting if they did succeed in starting a run and making any community bank suspend business?

Let's see who would suffer: The bank employees, who would lose their jobs; the borrowers, whose loans would be called to raise cash to pay the depositors; the depositors themselves, who would suffer distress with their money tied up for weeks; property owners, whose mortgages would be involved; bank stockholders, who would have to pay the loss of quick liquidation; merchants, whose collections would stop; every one of us.

So the next time someone tells you a rumor about any institution, answer him with two harsh words: "PROVE IT!" If he says his wife told him, or his boss, or the garbage man, tell him to go back to his informant with the same two harsh words, and then to put his money back in the bank, where it belongs.

There is no place for cowardice and destructive propaganda in America. For the sake of our happiness and peace of mind, let's get the facts and scotch the lies.

The Publisher.

Music Festival at Upper Darby.

The first annual music festival, given at the Upper Darby Junior High School on Friday evening, was received by a full auditorium. The orchestra, as well as the other groups, consisted of students of the various suburban high schools, and was under the direction of David D. M. Haupt. It was made up of 66 pieces. The program contained four selections.

The chorus, directed by Clyde A. Dengler, sang three numbers and a male quartet gave "The Drum." This was enthusiastically received and an encore was called for.

The band of 78 pieces, conducted by Orme C. Beach, gave three selections.

Despite the fact that this was the first festival of its kind in this region, the concert was enthusiastically received by the large audience.

Last Meeting Held by Parent-Teacher Group

such an association as ours so long as our object remains what it is, to work with our school and faculty. We thank our principal, Mr. Drennen, for his hearty backing and assure him of our sincere desire to continue to make ourselves useful.

"We have tried to remain true to the purpose for our existence. Especially have we tried to bring into closer relation the home and the school that parents and teachers may co-operate intelligently in the training of the child. We have tried to bring to you such information as we felt would be helpful in accomplishing this. We have tried to work for the good of the child in all we have done.

"We have brought to you a number of outstanding speakers of the Child Training World and have had a part with other organizations in furthering matters of interest and benefit to children, such as the distribution of prizes to the winners in the Summer Reading Club and the meeting for the Italian-speaking folks of our school. We were pleased to present the beautiful silk American flag which adorns our school auditorium platform. Very shortly, we shall again award the Nellie M. Wetherill prize to our most outstanding boy and girl in our seventh grade. And, in June, we shall carry on summer round-up work, which is a most valuable aid to our school.

"It is pleasing to note that, as our year closes, we have the largest membership in the history of our organization, which is most certainly a mark of progress."

"One thing which has pleased a great many of our members has been the large part the school itself has taken in our programs. We thank every teacher and child who worked so hard and so willingly to bring to us different phases of school work which some of the parents might not have had an opportunity to witness had it not been for the Parent-Teacher programs. In connection with this part of the work it would be impossible to think of it apart from Miss Fricke and Miss Gassner. We do thank them both, heartily, for their efforts.

"Another endeavor our association has put forth this year has been to unearth the hidden talents among our parents and, if we have not succeeded in finding yours, let me tell you it is hidden so deeply we have not yet been able to reach it. The proof that we were able to discover some came with our April meeting, at which time we had the privilege of hearing one of the finest choruses of local talent anyone could ask for. At that meeting we had a group of about twelve mothers of our association who furnished us with two beautiful musical selections. We hope that this is just a good beginning that will be continued.

"We also discovered more ability in our midst when we listened to the interesting paper read by our vice president, Mrs. Starr, and the timely advice given by Miss Hoover. And those who missed hearing the reading of the paper written on "Co-operation" by Lawson Yow will never be able to replace that event in their lives.

"We feel justly proud of the work of our association in the conducting of the convention of the County Council of Parents and Teachers. Our men and women proved themselves most interested in this work and highly efficient.

"Our Study Group proved to be a most interesting part of our work this year. While there have not been large numbers attending this group meeting, the high enthusiasm of those who did attend with regularity has proven that there are a few mothers interested enough in the welfare of their children to take a morning each week to talk over their problems and their remedies. We have every reason to believe that our group will be much larger next year. We owe a debt of gratitude and thanks to Miss Pray for her faithful leadership of this group.

"There are many other phases of our work I would like to touch upon but time hurries along, but I cannot close this report without a word of sincere thanks to all of the women who stood ready to act whenever they were called upon, never counting anything too hard to do. Outstanding among those of this description, of course, is Mrs. Schroeder. We all feel very grateful to her, who, although she held no office in our organization, gave so liberally of her time and energy every time she was called upon.

"And, to the Executive Committee of our P. T. A. I wish to express my sincere thanks for all they have done. I should like to mention them: Mrs. Starr, first vice president; Miss Bishop, second vice president; Mrs. Tyson, secretary; Mrs. Patton, treasurer; Mrs. Loos, chairman of Publicity; Miss Pray, chairman of Program; Mrs. Perry, chairman of Hospitality; Mrs. M. H. Nordblom, chairman of Membership; Mrs. Griswold, chairman of Child Welfare Magazine, and Mrs. Van Auker, chairman of Summer Round-up.

"To the members of this association who saw fit to place me in this honored position I should, also, like to express my thanks, because, as the result of my two years of serving in this capacity, I have received an education of inestimable value, which it would have been impossible for me to have gained in any other way. My heartiest wishes for the future success of the Narberth Parent-Teacher Association." (Mrs. C. H.) Helen V. Woolmington, President Narberth Parent-Teacher Association.

New Water Co. Reservoir to Cover Nearly 400 Acres

Four billion gallons of water will eventually be impounded by the new Philadelphia-Suburban Water Company project in Marple Township, for the emergency water needs of Delaware, Chester and Montgomery counties. The dam was completed at a cost of $2,500,000, and the artificial lake that it forms will cover nearly 400 acres of ground. When filled to capacity its deepest point will be over 70 feet. The project will be formally dedicated early in July. Photo shows the reservoir gradually filling, with about 10,000,000 gallons of Crum Creek spring water already in storage.

Have you criticism of your community or its paper? Why not write and air your views for your neighbors to read.

UNDERGROUND AND OUT OF SIGHT

More than 1,000 miles of underground pipe work are required to carry pure Springfield Water to Suburban Philadelphia.

The millions of gallons of water served annually to the vast Suburban Area covering three hundred square miles has required a network of piping of almost unbelievable proportions.

Over the countryside to communities nestled in the valleys—reaching out to the hilly districts—through sparsely settled territory—and into the heavily populated metropolitan centers—the water mains find their way.

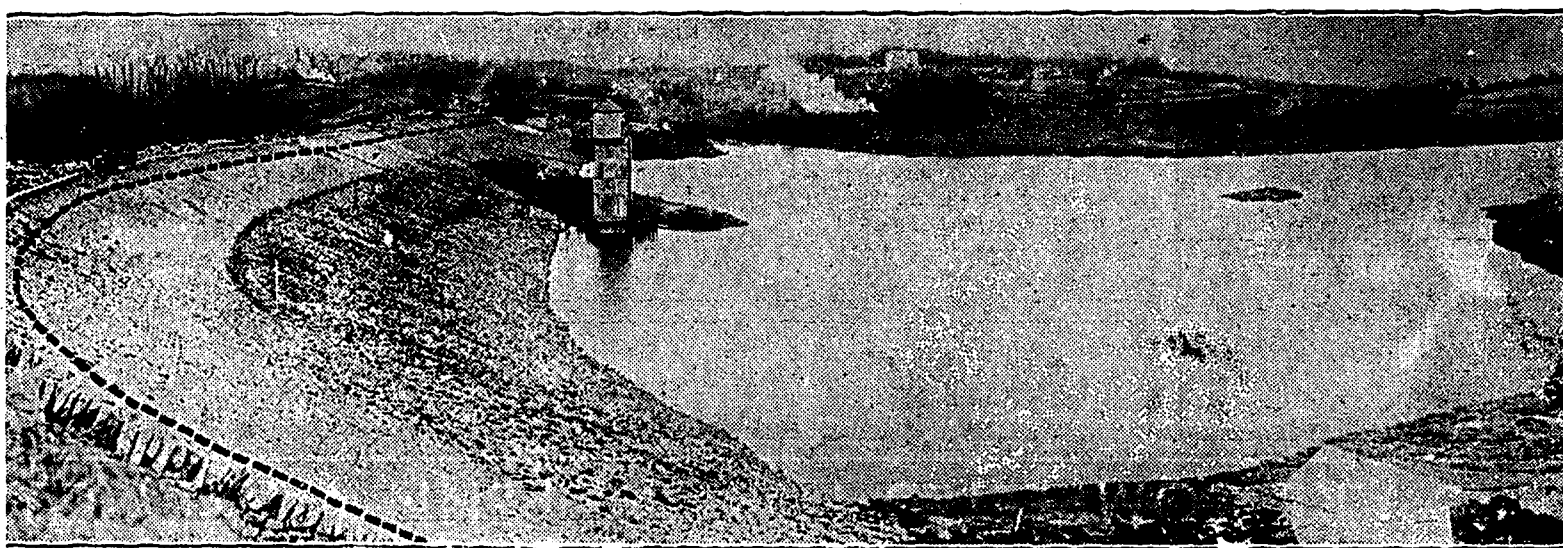

Huge transmission mains form an interlocking and interconnecting system between the four sources of supply from

Crum Creek, near Media

Pickering Creek, near Valley Forge

Neshaminy Creek, near Langhorne

Pennypack Creek, at Bethayres

The gigantic impounding reservoir, shown above, on Crum Creek, has a capacity of 4,000,000,000 (four billion) gallons and is practically completed and partially filled.

The structure adds an additional safeguard against water shortage, should there be another severe drought during the coming Summer.

Legion Notes

News and Activities of the Harold D. Speakman Post

To Dedicate New Colors

An impressive ceremony will mark the next regular meeting of the Harold D. Speakman Post of the American Legion, of Narberth, on Monday evening at 8:15 in the Post Club Room.

A beautiful new embroidered Post flag will be dedicated with appropriate exercises and turned over to the Post in time for use at the Memorial Day exercises.

Many distinguished guests have been invited to attend the meeting. Among them will be Leon Waltz, Commander of the Ninth District Department of Pennsylvania, and the commanders of the neighboring American Legion Posts. The members of the Legion Auxiliary will attend the meeting in a body. The Post has extended invitations to the Auxiliary in recognition of its splendid co-operation in all of the Post's activities. The Auxiliary will be the guests of honor. An invitation has also been extended to the Boy Scouts to attend. Among the out-of-town guests invited are Colonel William Tidball, U. S. A., retired. At the meeting the plans will be announced for the Memorial Day exercises, which will be held this year as usual beginning with a parade and ending with the presentation of the Legion School Award Gold Medals in front of the Community Building.

War Time Chaplain Coming

At the executive committee meeting of the American Legion, on Monday, the Post Commander announced that Burgess Henry A. Frye, a member of the Post, has arranged with the Reverend W. W. Hall, of Scalp Level, Pa., to address the Memorial Day audience gathered in front of the Community Building after the parade.

The presence of the Reverend Hall is especially significant in view of the fact that he was the chaplain of the regiment of which Harold D. Speakman, of Narberth, was a member for whom the local Post was named.

Dance Planned for Next Friday

A spring dance will be held by the Harold D. Speakman Post 356 at the Post rooms which adjoin the library on the community playgrounds.

There is an opportunity for many of you in Narberth to take part in a community affair and meet some of your good fellow-townpeople.

You'll have a great time. It is the night before Memorial Day, Friday, May 29, and you won't have to get up early the next morning for the parade is not until 9 o'clock.

Come! Wear your white flannels those of you who are a little overweight and desirous of keeping cool, but come for we have but one thought in mind and that is to have a good time.

Those of you who would like to come but are afraid you do not know anyone, that you'll be strange, if you only will favor us with your presence and the $2.00 we assure you you'll soon find yourself in an atmosphere of real hospitality and meet many delightful people of your community.

Don't forget now we promise you all a good time. If not, your money is refunded. What a night of fun you can expect.

Little Garden Days Were Big Success

Over $1600 Netted by Federation of Churches for Relief Work.

The Main Line Federation of Churches, through the chairman and vice-chairman of its volunteer committee, Mrs. J. Emott Caldwell and Mrs. Harold W. How, wishes to thank all the kind friends of the neighborhood who helped to make the Ninth Annual Little Garden Day Sale such a remarkable success, despite the rainy weather and the hard times which some of us are feeling rather keenly.

At least $1600 net profit is expected by the committee in charge of the affair. Despite the fact that it rained on both days of the sale fifty-seven aids helped on Tuesday and sixty-eight on Wednesday.

Many local business firms as well as private individuals sent contributions and garden owners secured valuable and unusual plants at reasonable prices.

To all who helped with service and donations, the Federation of Churches wishes to express most sincere thanks. The money will be spent, as always, for the relief of those of our neighbors who are in distress, due to illness, unemployment or other misfortune.

Oenothera Youngi is not Chinese Primrose. It's common name is Evening Primrose on account of the fact that its flowers open in the evening and remain closed in bright sun. Primula Chinensis, Chinese Primrose, is a tender greenhouse plant. The reason for all of this explanation is to correct an error made at a "plant sale" when Oenothera was sold as Chinese Primrose. Oenothera Missouriensis is an improved variety with larger flowers. Oenotheras have stoloniferous roots and spread rapidly in the garden. They should not be planted close to choice perennials like Delphiniums.

Nepeta Mussini is a nice plant. At least the pussy cats think so from the way they like to "mess with it." It is a cousin to the Cat Mint or Catnip and its blue-lavender flowers and grayish foliage is quite effective in the garden if planted in fair masses. If cut after flowering it will bloom again the same season.

Lilacs like lime. Not just a little burned lime thrown on the surface but pulverized limestone dug into the bed where they are to be planted or placed in holes around the outer roots of those that are already planted. This applies to our old friend the common Purple Lilac, Syringa Vulgaris and to the Persian or the French Hybrids.

Garden visits, or pilgrimages, if you will, bring forth much in the way of plant knowledge as well as a liberal education in the building of gardens. Some gardens are restful and have a sense of charm, others are neat and fussy—nice mechanically but just a bit too prim—and perhaps too colorful. Size is not a factor as small gardens may have that real garden feeling while larger ones may give us the impression of well-kept parks. The subject is big and our space is small. What we started to say was that we saw Doronicum Excelsum, the Leopard's Bane, a beautiful yellow daisy, with something of the Gerbera form, fine stems for cutting and doing well in shade as well as in full sun. A most desirable perennial plant.

We saw many plants of Daphne Cneorum, the Rose Garland or Garland Flower. This beautiful little evergreen shrub with its pretty little fragrant pink flowers grows only eight inches tall but stretches out its arms widely if given a place in the border or rock garden protected from winter winds. A southern exposure suits it admirably with a light covering in winter. The Daphne likes limestone rock and will flower several times during the season if made happy. Cut a flower and pin it in someone's lapel to remind him that life is sweet and a garden is something that helps to add to the joy of living.

Electric Kitchen Will Be Feature of Devon Show

One of the new features this year at the Devon Horse Show and County Fair will be a new, fully equipped electric kitchen, in operation, presented by the Philadelphia Electric Company, under the management of Mrs. Walter E. Rex, Jr., and held in a quaint, old-fashioned kitchen building.

Each day a different dish will be cooked and served, named for the members of the executive committee—a la Mrs. Stacy B. Lloyd, Mrs. Thomas G. Ashton, Mrs. George W. Childs Drexel, Mrs. Henry Jeanes, Mrs. Thomas Newhall, Mrs. Walter Page, Mrs. Isaac W. Roberts and Mrs. Clement B. Wood.

Narberth Woman, Mrs. Harriet Miesusset, Has Transcribed Thirteen Volumes Into Braille

There is no one thing that stirs sympathy so much as blindness and that is why the Braille transcribing which has been done by Mrs. Harriet Miesusset, of 439 Anthwyn Road, Narberth, has been of great interest.

Altogether Mrs. Miesusset has transcribed thirteen volumes into Braille, making it possible for those who cannot see to read. Her first interest in Braille came through the Federation of Clubs, which made an effort to interest clubwomen to learn to write Braille. Lieutenant Frank Schoble, who lost his sight in the war, spoke to a group of women and inspired them to help the Red Cross with the work that that organization was doing.

First of all, transcribing in Braille takes a great deal of patience and concentration, according to Mrs. Miesusset. The alphabet, which is made by different combinations of a set of six dots, must be learned, and, of course, there are different set words or idioms to be learned too, such as, the, for, and. It is very much like learning a type of shorthand. After you have had a certain number of lessons, generally six, you have to take a test. This is then sent into the Library of Congress for inspection. If you have less than the allowed number of errors, then you receive a certificate as a Braille transcriber and may apply at the Red Cross headquarters for a book to do.

All work done, Mrs. Miesusset said, is rated for evenness and for errors. It is proof-read and a report of every error is sent to the writer. The name of the transcriber goes in the front of every book. If there are twenty-five pages without an error, then a silver star is awarded, and a gold star is given for every fifty pages without an error.

Mrs. Miesusset had received a most interesting letter from a woman of 59 who was both blind and deaf. Her entire recreation and pleasure came from reading. She had wanted to read Joseph C. Lincoln's "Silas Bradford's Boy," and a number of Braille writers were given portions of it so that the work might be completed by Christmas. It was done and the grateful, cheerful letter was quite compensating for the rush and labor involved.

All the work done by the Red Cross in preparing these books in Braille is volunteer work. All equipment and paper is paid for by the volunteer worker. As there are but approximately 130 words of Braille to a page, there are a number of volumes required in Braille though only one volume has been transcribed from.

The books which Mrs. Miesusset has transcribed in the two-year period she has been working are: "The Perfect Vision," in two volumes; "Little Dog Toby," two volumes; "The Boy Who Lived in Pudding Lane," two volumes; "The Call of the Wild," three volumes; one volume of "Silas Bradford's Boy"; "The New Democratic Constitution of Europe," one volume, and "The New England Country," two volumes. This latter she has just finished.

Mrs. Miesusset is one of the best Braille transcribers developed among the clubwomen of this vicinity and has won a number of silver stars, besides much praise for the neatness and accuracy of her work.

For a time she will drop it, however, for she expects to sail on July 29 for France on the George Washington with other Gold Star Mothers. Her son, Claude Ernest Miesusset, of the 102d Machine Gunners, was killed in action during the World War.

Juniors Win Opener From Clearview Bears

Fred Walzer's Narberth Juniors opened their season last Tuesday evening at the playground with a victory over the Clearview Bears to the tune of 5 to 4. The victory was due to the bat of Humphries, who batted .666 for the evening with a triple and a single to his credit and to the clever work afieid of Dick Heckel. The visitors offered plenty of competition and the score stood 4 to 4, when the Juniors stepped to the plate in the sixth. Miller, the visitors' catcher, dropped the third strike on Heckel and the fleet-footed Junior gained the initial sack on this error. "Howdy" Powell smacked a double through the shortstop and Heckel crossed the plate with the winning run.

Banker Spikes Work of Rumor Mongers

"There are but six banks in England and but three in Canada. With all their branches they are not able to serve the small business man or the small business community, and as a result specie must be used instead of credit.

"This country has progressed as has no other save the Roman Empire, and it is credit and faith which has made this progress possible. The faith of the business man in his neighbor makes possible the community bank, where credit is available to the small business man. Destroy this faith and you destroy credit, which means the wreckage of business."

Then, launching into the credit situation on the Main Line, and discussing the condition of the community institutions he reminded his hearers of the cowardly attack on the Ardmore Title and Trust Company last summer, instigated by a notorious Philadelphia publication.

"And the worst of it is," he said, "that a local business man who never sold the dirty, rotten, little sheet before in his life put it on his stand. The result of the propaganda was a disastrous run, and the result of the run was the merger of the Ardmore Title and Trust Company—a loss it will take the community years to recover from."

Mr. Clancy then went on to show how the "whispering brigade" had been working—unsuccessfully—during the week past. He repeated many of the fantastic rumors passed along in what he described as a "telephone campaign" which he more than suspected was maliciously inspired.

"The Merion Title and Trust Company is well able to weather any storm," he said. "Go out tomorrow and fight the whispering brigade. Restore faith and you restore prosperity."

New Circulation Peak Reached at Library

Four thousand two hundred and eighty-six books were circulated during the month of March at the Narberth Library, which is the highest record the Library has yet attained, though it has approached that figure very closely several times, and by the time this publicity is printed may have passed it.

Any one who perceives the significance of figures will note that that means that nearly one-half the number of books in the Library's collection were circulated in one month, for a glance at the lower corner of the inside front cover of the new books will reveal that the accession number now touches the 9000's, a goal seen only through a mist a few years back.

The slowly accumulating collection of books, the gratifying use of them as shown by the above figures, and the popularity of the magazine table are indications of the generous support which the community has always the community may be justly proud.

VAULTS ON THE PREMISES

pupils were sent there beginning in the fall of 1929.

At the present time exactly half of Narberth's school budget, amounting to $50,000, goes to Lower Merion for tuition of its 300 students in the Junior and Senior High Schools. Tuition costs have risen from $27,000 five years ago to $40,000 this year, excluding transportation expenses. The fact that more private and parochial school pupils are now attending the public schools also has tended to boost tuition expenses.

The board felt that a substantial increase in the tax rate would be inevitable unless the eighth grade were kept at the Narberth School, and since the rebuilding program was to be carried out this summer, sufficient space and facilities in the form of manual training, domestic science, club work, etc., would be provided to care for an eighth grade.

A request to the Lower Merion School Board to reduce the tuition rate required for Narberth students at the high schools was turned down by the Lower Merion School Board last week. Narberth is now paying $150 per student per year and the Township Board claimed that the actual cost to the district was $175, so that a decrease in tuition could not be considered.

Among other arguments considered of importance by the board is the inadvisability of sending children during their formative years to a strange, large school. It is felt that an eighth grade will provide more leadership in the school and act as a stimulating force on Seventh Grade pupils, which would otherwise be lacking. The more individual attention which can be given children in a smaller group was another factor considered.

The board's plans in this matter were explained at the meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association and met with a very favorable response.
